

FBG | FORMATIONS

CHURCH

What has your ministry been working on for the past quarter?

The Formations ministry has been working on a cohesive plan of discipleship for the FBG family. This has included continuing to find ways to help people get into a small group and developing opportunities to train new small group facilitators. We have also been preparing for the launch of the new core classes in the Fall along with other adult classes on Sunday morning and the Bible studies, classes and ministries on Wednesday nights.

The Generations ministry has been training mentors who are ready to help others who are looking for someone to walk with them in a one-on-one setting as well as developing new small groups and planning for Fall opportunities for those who are 55+ and to encourage intentional intergenerational engagement.
